FORMULA VERITAS BF

UNICUS COMMUNITAS

We live and do business in accordance with the values of HEALTH and INTEGRITY.

HEALTH

To feel healthy both physically and mentally. To consciously take care of one's health.

INTEGRITY

To show harmony between what one says and does. To integrate personal experience and knowledge into life and business. Personal honesty, integrity, loyalty to one's principles and beliefs are an integral part of this value.

In accordance with these values, we bring you the Sir Anton's Formula Veritas BF.

The tablet was created on the basis of 25 years of research and development under the leadership of prof. Willem J. Serfontein (South Africa) and the rich experience in the production of food supplements by Frederick Beuzidenhout (South Africa) and Jiří V. Ligotzký (The Czech Republic).

Formula Veritas BF is a sophisticated combination of selected vitamins, trace elements and minerals that help to harmonize the individual functions of the body.

Formula Veritas BF

The human body is made up of cells. Specifically, about 35 trillion cells. Cells are the cornerstone of life and need to function in perfect symbiosis, no matter what specific function they are in charge of.

Many factors are needed for the proper functioning of the cells of our body, the most fundamental being cellular homeostasis, ie balance. Our body and our immune system is the most sophisticated biochemical organism, but it needs a balanced ratio of all trace elements, minerals and vitamins.

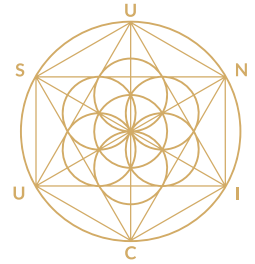

Homeostasis is the stability of the body's internal environment and the stability of physical processes, incl. various mechanisms that ensure this stability. Despite the fact that the organism is constantly affected, its internal parameters (temperature, blood pH, blood pressure, etc.) are maintained in relatively constant ranges.

We live in a world of immeasurable prosperity with a significantly longer life expectancy of the population. Despite this positive fact scientific and professional studies clearly show that there is a concerning deterioration in nutrition and support for cellular function. These unfortunate parameters are influenced by factors such as industrial food production, extensive chemically controlled agriculture, soil depletion resulting in a lack of trace elements, minerals and vitamins directly in plants. The quality and vitality of plants has a key impact on human health and immunity.

It is not enough to ensure only the supply of vitamins and minerals in the form of food supplements, but also their perfect absorption and acting in symbiosis. That is why our scientists have combined the wisdom of nature with the latest technologies and, after years of basic research into the cellular processes in the body, have created a completely unique Veritas BF Formula.

FORMULA VERITAS BF is a food supplement that, thanks to its unique production technology, processing and content, significantly supports, and strengthens the body's resistance. In the case of our tablet technology combines with the best of nature.

The tablet is unique in that, it is so-called two-phase. The individual parts of the tablet are thus absorbed separately. One part in the stomach and the other part in the small intestine. That is, in those places where the individual parts can be best used and thus achieve maximum symbiotic absorption.

The recommended daily dose is 1 tablet, and with regular use the body gets a balanced ratio of all ingredients to nourish and strengthen your cells. This supports your immune system and its proper functioning. The body then utilises all the benefits described in the individual components.

SELENIUM

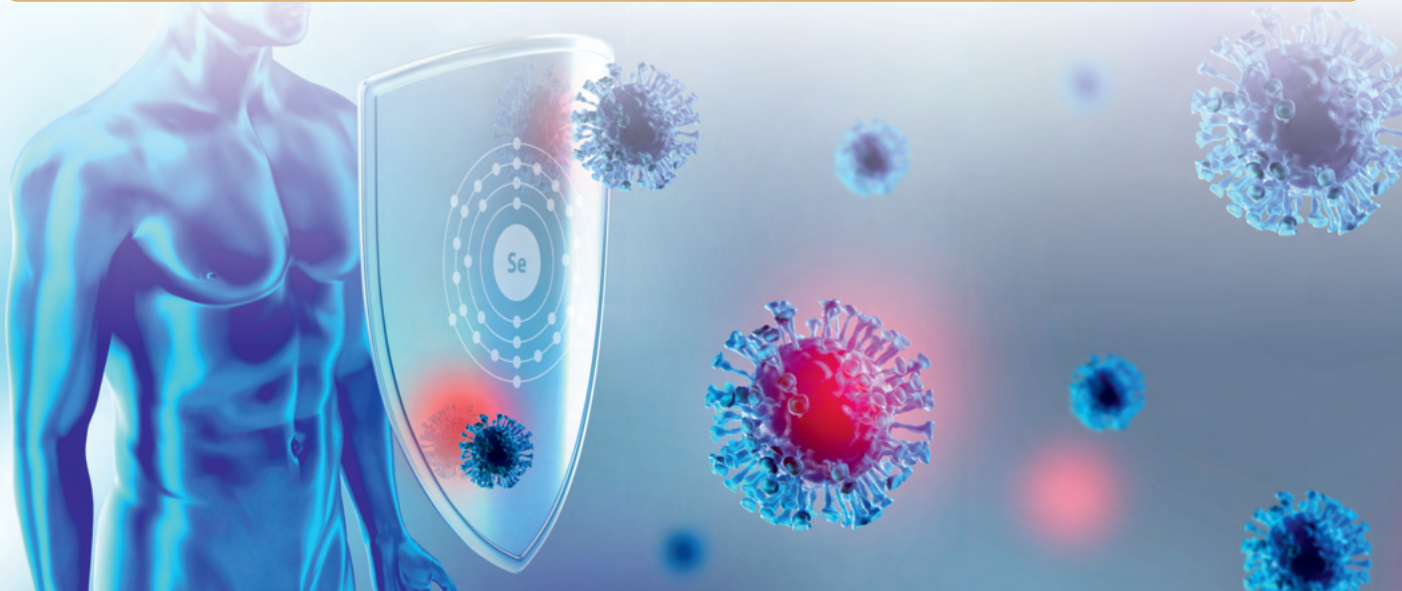

Selenium is an essential element necessary for numerous processes in the body. With low levels of selenium in the body, the body's defence against viruses, bacteria and toxins is impaired.

If we have viruses or bacteria in our body, selenium starts to be consumed in our body. Once consumed and not replenished, viruses and bacteria in our body gain free access to cell membranes. Therefore, if we have a sufficient amount of selenium in the body, the multiplication and mutation of the virus is significantly suppressed and our immune system gains sufficient time and space to eliminate the virus from the body.

Another moment when selenium is consumed in our body is the detoxification of the body. During the detoxification process, selenium helps to remove toxins from the body. The detoxification of the organism takes place continuously, without this process every organism would die of intoxication with unwanted toxins.

Selenium acts as an antioxidant blocking harmful free radicals that damage DNA and slow down cell aging. Together with vitamins C and E, it helps protect the body from free radical cell damage.

Selenium also has a positive effect on the function of the liver, thyroid gland, heart and blood vessels, eye health, male fertility, healthy growth and fetal development.

IODINE

Iodine is one of the most important minerals for our body. Unfortunately, a large part of the world's population suffers from iodine deficiency. When choosing iodine supplements, it is important to choose ones that contain natural sources of biologically active iodine.

It is essential for the proper function of the thyroid gland and the metabolism of nutrients (sugars, fats and proteins). It positively affects our nervous system, improves mental and intellectual functions, the quality of skin, hair, nails and teeth, promotes digestion and has a positive effect on our sexuality and fertility.

Adequate iodine is especially important for pregnant and lactating women because it has a beneficial effect on fetal development.

Together with selenium and other vitamins and substances it helps protect and cleanse cells. Thanks to the perfect tablet technology, it is enabled to perform its function exactly where it is to do it.
